

I recommend that we use factory method for creating powerups on the fly. I am including a demo application which implements factory method to build fruits for a hungry hungry elephant to eat.